REVOLTS AT RECITAL OF FRIGHTFUL STORY

Titanic Officer Pleads to Be Excused from Detailing Horrors of Scene After Liner Sank.

"ONE LONG CONTINUOUS MOAN," HE SAYS

Washington, April 23.—The life and death struggles of the victims of the Titanic disaster, as pictured to the senate investigating committee today by Third Officer Herbert John Pitman, of the sunken liner, Chairman Smith, of the committee pressed Pitman regarding scenes after the sinking of the ship.

"I heard no cries of distress until after the ship went down," he said.

"How far away were the cries from your life boat?"

"Several hundred yards, probably, some of them. I told my men to get the oars out and pull toward the wreck that we might be able to save a few more."

"The people in my boat demurred. They said it would be a mad idea."

None Urged to Go Back.

"Did any one in your boat urge or appeal to go back toward the wreck?"

"No, not one."

"Did any woman urge you to go back?"

"No."

"Who demurred, the men with the oars?"

"Oh, no, they obeyed my orders, and all the passengers said it was a mad idea to go back, that we should add another forty to the list of drowned. Then we took in the oars and lay quiet."

When Pitman yielded to the importunities of the passengers, he did not turn back to see, but merely pulled in his oars and drifted.

Describes Awful Screams.

"Describe the screams."

"Don't sir, please! I'd rather not talk about it."

"I'm sorry to press it, but what was it like? Were the screams intermittent or spasmodic?"

"It was one long continuous moan."

The witness said the moans and cries continued an hour and that he made no effort to go to the rescue.

"You drifted in the vicinity of the drowning people and made no effort to give them aid?" asked Senator Smith in surprise.

"Please, sir, don't! pleaded Pitman. "I cannot bear to recall it! I wish we might not discuss the scene."

Offered No Further Aid.

"I have no desire to lacerate your feelings," said Senator Smith, "but we must know whether you drifted there without offering aid. Answer that and I shall press you no more."

"I did sir," answered the witness.

"Did you ever hear anything of a boat known as the Hellig Olav?" suddenly asked Senator Smith.

"No, I did not. There may be a boat of that name," said Pitman.

The Olav docked at New York April 17 and is reported to have encountered an iceberg near where the Titanic sank. It has been suggested that the Olav may have been the boat whose lights Fourth Officer Boxall saw and which he in-

ALL IS ROOSEVELT IN CONVENTION AT AUBURN

R. H. Rerick, Lagrange, and Harry Brown, Waterloo, Chosen as Delegates; Pledged to the Colonel.

[Special to The Sentinel.]
Auburn, Ind., April 23.—After the unanimous adoption of resolutions pledging the delegates to Roosevelt at the morning session, the Twelfth district republican convention resumed its work this afternoon and selected R. H. Rerick, of Lagrange, and Harry Brown, of Waterloo, to represent the district in the national republican convention at Chicago in June.

The alternate delegates selected were Isaac Kamm, of Ligonier, and Lloyd Bailey, of Columbia City.

Stults as Elector.

Austin W. Stults, of Fort Wayne, was named as elector, and A. C. Albright, of Steuben, as contingent elector. The convention was wholly in the hands of the Roosevelt forces, and very little Taft sentiment was expressed.

Members of the committees on resolutions, credentials and rules were as follows:

Allen county—Dr. G. B. Stemen, Byron Strawn and A. W. Perry; DeKalb county—Frank Thomas, H. M. Widener and Dr. Schultz; Lagrange—Frank Free, A. M. Lambert and Carl Lamson; Noble—J. M. Schermerhorn, J. N. Howie and T. L. Hines; Steuben—Earl Moss, Dr. Hiler and A. A. Olmstead; White—John Clapham, John Deam and Omar Metz.

The Morning Session.

The convention went into session at 11 o'clock this morning with several hundred Roosevelt republicans in attendance. Taft republicans were conspicuous by their absence. While the best of order prevailed, all of the delegates were extremely enthusiastic and the name of "Roosevelt" was shouted until the assembly hall fairly shook.

Todd's name was on every tongue and not even a shadow of doubt as to the choice of the delegates was cast.

The meeting was officially opened by Allen J. Vesey, of Fort Wayne, republican district chairman, who delivered a brief address which officially launches the Twelfth district republican campaign. Leo J. Hartzell, of Fort Wayne, formerly county chairman of Allen county, was elected chairman of the meeting, and James Shaughnessy, of Steuben county, was made secretary. Committees of resolutions, credentials and rules were appointed. Dr. Stults, of DeKalb county, was made chairman of the resolutions committee, and Carl J. Neumann, of Lagrange, is secretary.

Before the adjournment of the morning session resolutions were presented endorsing Theodore Roosevelt for the presidential nomination and also for the instruction of delegates selected to vote for the ex-president and support his nomination at the Chicago convention in June.

Resolutions were also adopted endorsing Charles H. Campbell, of Shelbyville, as the national committeeman. These resolutions were adopted unanimously and not a single vote of "nay" was recorded. Each county in the district is represented on the various committees, and each county is being given a slice of the honors which the convention confers.

Crowd Left Early.

The Fort Wayne delegation, consisting of thirty-one delegates who were elected at the primaries last Friday, and a great crowd of Roosevelt supporters, left the city at 8:15 o'clock this morning over the Toledo & Chicago Inter-

F. G. SCHNEIDER DIES SUDDENLY

Expires Aboard Train En Route Home from Colorado.

END WAS EXPECTED

Fred G. Schneider, the well known cigar manufacturer, died suddenly at 3 o'clock this morning aboard a train en route to Fort Wayne from Colorado Springs, where he went last Saturday to take treatment for throat trouble, from which he had suffered since early last autumn. News of his death was conveyed to relatives by telegram. Hundreds of friends, who were not aware that Mr. Schneider was ill, are sorrowfully shocked to learn of his sudden death.

One week ago Mr. and Mrs. Schneider went to West Baden. After remaining there until Saturday, physicians advised Mr. Schneider to go to Colorado Springs for relief from his throat trouble. He left for the west Saturday and remained at the springs until Monday night, after sending a telegram to this city stating that physicians there said he could be doctored here for his trouble as well as in the west. The last telegram received stated that he died from acute laryngitis. Mrs. Schneider was with him at the time of his death, which occurred at Lyndon, Colorado.

Mr. Schneider was forty-seven years of age. He was born and reared in Fort Wayne and received his early education in the schools of the Emanuel Lutheran church. After leaving school he was associated with his father, William Schneider, in the manufacture of cigars. As soon as he was well enough acquainted with the business, he was given the management of the concern, and later the ownership, operating a shop in the rear of 1028 Webster street. Fifteen years ago he established his manufacturing plant at 1024 Calhoun street and conducted both a wholesale and retail business.

The deceased was one of the prominent figures in local business activities. He was a member of the Fort Wayne lodge of Elks, the Commercial club, the Travelers' Protective association and the Cigar-makers' union. Surviving he leaves the widow and two children—Kathryn, aged 14, and Clement, aged 10 years. His aged father, two sisters and two brothers also survive. They are the Misses Mary and Lillie Schneider and William Schneider, Jr., of this city, and Paul Schneider, of Chicago.

The remains will be met by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kirkland, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Hanes, of Plymouth, Ind.

PLACING BLAME UPON FUGITIVES

Six Members of the Allen Clan Enter Pleas of "Not Guilty."

TAKE VENUE CHANGE

Hillsville, Va., April 23.—Six members of the Allen clan, charged with murder, were arraigned in Carroll county court house this morning on indictments returned after the assassination of the county officers March 14. Each pleaded "not guilty."

A change of venue was asked and granted, the court announcing it would hold the trial at Wytheville, beginning next Tuesday, April 30.

The defendants will be tried separately. They will be taken to Wytheville tonight.

The prisoners, Floyd Allen, upon whom a prison sentence was about to be imposed when the shooting commenced; his sons, Claude and Victor, and his nephews, Sidna Edwards and Byrd Marion are charged with murder in the first degree. They were brought here from Roanoke last night.

A venire of twenty-four men, not one of whom lives within three miles of Hillsville, had been summoned and the court was ready to begin selecting a jury as soon as the preliminaries were disposed of. Early today there had been no intimation that either prosecution or defense would seek a change of venue.

Attorneys for the accused have admitted that an effort will be made to place responsibility for all five of the murders upon Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the only two members of the gang still at large. It will be claimed that Floyd Allen shot in self-defense when attacked by court officers; that Claude and Friel Allen from the excitement of the moment.

INSTRUCTED FOR TAFT.

Detroit, Mich., April 23.—First district delegates to the republican national convention: Judge William L. Carpenter and John S. Haggerty. Instructed for Taft.

Now York, April 23.—The offer of mediation from Charles P. Neill, labor commissioner, and Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the United States commerce court, which was accepted by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers last night just after they had declared for a strike, as the next move in their campaign for increased wages, came formally before the conference committee of railway managers today.

That the eleventh hour proffer of mediation by officials of the United States government will also be accepted by the railroad men, the general belief this morning. Judge Knapp is expected here from Washington this afternoon.

"Judge Knapp and I are only acting as mediators," said Commissioner Neill, "and if as mediators we obtain an acceptance of the proposition of arbitration, then it would be for the railroad and the engineers to elect an arbitrator each; those two to select the third."

The engineers appeared to be delighted with the offer of mediation, declaring that their position with respect to increased wages was perfectly sound and that if the question was put up for arbitration they were bound to obtain some concessions.

Fifty Roads Affected.

The demands for increased wages were made by the engineers on fifty railroads east of Chicago and north of the Potomac river and Grand Chief Stone said that a strike order would affect 54,000 engine drivers. In turn the engineers' (Continued on Page 5, Column 4.)

ARABIAN WOMEN LED IN CARNAGE

They Tortured Wounded in Frightful Massacre at Fez for Which French Authorities Are Blamed.

Paris, April 23.—The massacre at Fez, in which a large number of French officers, soldiers and citizens were killed and wounded, has given rise to considerable criticism of the government authorities for not foreseeing and preventing the occurrence. It is pointed out by the newspapers that the French troops occupied the Moroccan capital more than a year ago.

Premier Poincaré telegraphed today to Eugene Regnault, the French minister, to make a complete investigation of the outbreak.

The special correspondents of the French newspapers at Fez indicate that the plot of the rebels included the massacre of the whole French mission headed by M. Regnault, which recently arrived at the capital to establish the protectorate.

This plan failed owing to the impatience of the Arabian women to be in the carnage. These women are described by the correspondents as creatures of terrifying appearance who passed their time in rushing about the streets and torturing the wounded and some times aiding the Moorish rebels in the final mutilation and desecration of the victims.

Scenes of Awful Horror.

An awful horror occurred in the quarter of the city, where the rebels, armed, pillaged and burned all the Jews they could find, throwing their bodies from the roofs. Many young girls were carried off to suffer indescribable outrages. The Jewish quarter was set on fire and three-fourths of it entirely destroyed rendering over a thousand people homeless.

The complete story of the death of the telegraphers is a narrative of coolness and bravery, and the newspapers are comparing their devotion to duty with that of the wireless operators on board the Titanic. Although they possessed only one revolver between them they kept the mob at bay for a considerable time, killing sixteen of the fanatics.

Fez Was Terrific.

All the time one or the other of them was sending off dispatches to headquarters at Tangier, telling of the plight of the city. Finally, however, the Arabs tore a hole in the roof, into which they sent a murderous fire and flaming torches which set fire to the telegraph room.

Three of the telegraphers fell dead and the fourth turned his revolver on himself rather than fall living into the hands of the Moors. The shot missed, and he was later able to escape from the burning building.

Fears are expressed in Paris that similar outbreaks may occur in other parts of Morocco.

MAY GRAB IOWA AWAY FROM TAFT

Cummins Forces Plan Coup in State Convention Tomorrow.

CLAIM TAFT CONTROL

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, April 23.—Whether Senator Albert B. Cummins adherents were planning a surprise for the Taft forces in the republican state convention here tomorrow was the paramount question among the delegates today.

The attitude of John H. Briar, Cummins' Iowa campaign manager, gave cause for uncertainty, even among Taft's friends. He claimed to be able to control the convention, but declined to divulge the source of his support, merely stating that there would be sufficient delegates to turn the convention to the Iowa senator.

John T. Adams, Taft's Iowa manager, was more insistent than ever that he and his friends would organize the convention, even to the extent of raising his estimate to 85 majority.

The action of former President Roosevelt in relieving three county delegations from supporting him, is expected to play an important part in the organization of the convention.

CLAIMS IN MISSOURI.

St. Louis, April 23.—Caucuses preliminary to the republican state convention meeting tomorrow and the state convention Thursday began here today and it is expected they will not be concluded until late tonight. The national administration is to be represented by Charles Nagel and Congressman Richard Baughnold, who are due to arrive here tonight. Governor Hadley, leader of the Roosevelt forces, began his caucuses early.

Each faction is claiming the state convention at which four delegates at large will be chosen and a national committeeman elected.

The Taft leaders announced that the president has 449½ delegates instructed. Roosevelt 411½ and contested 22½. The Roosevelt faction claims 661½ votes and gives the administration 428½ votes, with 51 contested and 8 uninstructed.

VIRGINIA BROOKS WINS HER FIGHT

Her Guards Toss One Opponent Into Ditch at West Hammond.

HEADS SCHOOL BOARD

Hammond, Ind., April 23.—After a spirited fight in which the women of the village stood by her, Miss Virginia Brooks, of West Hammond, the reformer, was elected president of the board of education over Frank Willard, Constance Gikobeszka and Frank Tikonski. Tikonski did not know that his name was on the ticket until after the election, when friends told him he was defeated.

Julius Lessner, an anti-Brooks worker, was taken by a party of Miss Brooks' Amazonian guards and thrown into a ditch. He was nearly drowned.

Other women engaged in blows with supporters of other candidates on the anti-Brooks ticket, but in every case the suffragettes won easily.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

THIS pretty little story touching on the beautiful springtime comes from the Clay school. It didn't happen during the present spring. In fact, it was several springs ago, but each year, just at this time, the teacher recalls the incident.

"We endeavor," said she, "to use nature wherever possible, not only to illustrate relative truths, but to cultivate a love of the beautiful—to direct the thoughts of the child to growing things, to the seasons, to nature's color harmonies, and the like. Springtime is especially attractive to both teacher and pupil, for it is the time when Mother Earth puts on new garments, and blossoms forth in all the beauty and vivacity of youth."

"So," she continued, "we were speaking one day in early spring concerning the very first evidences of the coming warm weather. From one child we learned that a pretty robin redbreast had appeared near her bedroom window and that she had placed some crumbs on the snow where he or his companions might find it. Another told of flowers and the deep blueness of the sky, as an indication of the coming warmth. Another had seen the first blade of new grass. Another reported seeing the first bluejay, and so on. Finally, one little girl announced she had also seen something which indicated the approach of spring."

"What was it?" I asked.

"A little, round, flat one."

"A little bug, teacher," she responded. "It was very early for insect life to have appeared, as the ground was still frozen."

"What kind of a bug was it?"

"A little round flat bug, teacher."

"Where did you see it?" I asked.

"I saw it crawling along one of our beds," was the innocent response, and we dismissed the nature study class."

CHECKING UP THE IDENTIFIED DEAD

Certainty Regarding Some of the Bodies Picked Up from Sea.

ASTOR NOT IN LIST

New York, April 23.—Officials of the White Star line were able this afternoon to announce that they had checked off with the aid of their passenger lists some of the names of the identified dead which have been recovered by the Mackay-Bennett cable ship. The list follows:

First-class passengers—W. D. Douglas, Ramon Artagaveytin, Fred Sutton and A. M. Helverson (sent by wireless as A. J. Helverson).

Second-class passengers—Louis M. Hoffman, John H. Chapman (sent by wireless as John A. Chapman); W. Corbines (sent by wireless as J. S. Gill); Nicholas Nasser (sent by wireless as N. E. Colas Rasher); Mrs. Mary Mack, Reginald Hale (sent by wireless as Reg. Hale).

Steering passengers—Mary Morgan or Morgan (sent by wireless as Mary Morgan); James Farrell, James Kelly, Henry D. Mauritz Dahl (sent by wireless as Mauritz Dahl); Leslie Gilinski, Ernest P. Tomlin, Josef Dranozou (sent by wireless as Yosep Dranozou); Malkoun Johnson (sent by wireless as Malkoun Johnson); Nestle Williams (sent by wireless as Leslie Williams).

Are Not Verified.

The officials have not been able to verify the following names:

Mrs. N. McNamee. It is supposed that this is Eileen McNamee, a steering passenger from Queenstown, Ireland. There is no Catalina Vasilios on the White Star's list; there appears a Thomas Catalina and a Peter Vasilios. It is not possible to determine which of these two has been recovered. The name of Wm. Sage does not appear, but it is thought he was the son of John Sage. Both father and son were among the lost. There is no W. Year (as sent by wireless) on any of the lists. This is believed to be W. J. Ware, a second-class passenger.

There is no Mrs. A. Robins among the bookings, but Charley Robins, a third-class passenger, appears. She, it is thought by the White Star line, is the wife of Alexander Robins, who was booked in the steerage. White Star lists have no record of H. Greenberg (as sent by wireless), but the name of Samuel Greenberg is on the list of second-class passengers.

Not on Passenger List.

The following names of identified dead (as received by wireless) are not on the passenger lists of the steamship company: W. Marriott, George Rosemshire, H. W. Ashe, Nihilshedid, R. Bat, A. Hayler, Jerry Morrill and Steward Number 76.

All doubt that the name of N. E. Colas Rasher, as received by wireless by the White Star line, is that of Col. John Jacob Astor, was dispelled this morning when the wife of Nicolas Nasser told the officials that N. E. Colas Rasher must be her husband. The steamship officials say also that the name of Nasser is on their lists.

The Mackay-Bennett cable ship will remain near the scene of the disaster until it has recovered 100 bodies. It was learned today that John Ser J. G. Reuehlin, managing director of the

CANDIDATES ARE SLOW TO REPORT

Comparatively Few Have Filed Accounts of Their Expenses.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Eleven days of the time allotted under the law for candidates in the last primary election to file accounts of their expenditures still remain, as all must be in by May 4, and most of them are evidently waiting until the last week to file comparatively few have been handed to the county clerk.

One filed today showed that Oehmg Bird spent $197.09 in his efforts to land the democratic nomination for representative and in May 4, and most of them are evidently waiting until the last week to file comparatively few have been handed to the county clerk.

Adam C. Plough got off a bit cheaper, as his account shows that $117.50 covered all of the expenses of his campaign and he also made affidavit that it was spent in advertising.

A divorce complaint filed in the superior court today against Thompson charges that John Thompson abandoned her without cause on Sept. 12, 1910. They were married in March, 1904. C. W. Porter filed the suit.

Big Damage Suit Filed. Kenneth Williams has entered suit through Dr. J. W. Williams, his father, against the city of Fort Wayne for $10,000 damages for injuries sustained when he came in contact with a churning light wire on Tecumseh street in October. Improper construction and carelessness is alleged. The lad is about nine years old and one of his fingers was burned off and his head injured. Thomas and Townsend are his attorneys.

Decree Is Granted. In the circuit court this afternoon a divorce was granted Frances Kohlmeier in her divorce suit against George Kohlmeier. She was also given the custody of their child.

NURSES AT LAFAYETTE.

Convention Speaker Urges Them to Lead Health Reforms.

Lafayette, Ind., April 23.—The ninth semi-annual meeting of the Indiana State Nurses' association, opened here today with an attendance of 100 members. Dr. Maude McConnell, of Sullivan, in her annual address, urged the nurses to become leaders in all health reforms in their community. She predicted that with an aroused public, tuberculosis may be wiped out in fifty years. Mayor George R. Durgan welcomed the visitors, and Miss Mac Currie, of Indianapolis, responded for the nurses. This afternoon the visitors had a street car ride to the Tippecanoe battlefield state soldiers' home and Purdue university, and there will be a general reception tonight.

DEFEATS RECALL IDEA.

Ohio Will Have None of It in Her New Constitution.

Columbus, Ohio, April 23.—The Ohio constitutional convention defeated a proposal to incorporate a provision for the recall of public officials in the constitution by a vote of 57 to 45. It provided for the recall of all public officials, including the judiciary, upon a majority vote at regular November elections. Signatures of 20 per cent of the voters would have been required to place the name of a state official on the recall ballots and 25 per cent for a county or municipal official.

IS BUILDING AEROPANE.

Art Smith, Fort Wayne's boy aviator, is in Chicago engaged in the construction of a new aeroplane in which he will make exhibition flights this summer through Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. He will be joined on Monday by his mechanic, Winifred Peters, of this city, and will leave the Windy City late next week under the direction of Mills Aerial Booking company, with which he was affiliated last season.

C. C. GILHAMS BETTER.

TALE OF TORTURE FROM OLD MEXICO

American Refugees Flee the Country to Escape Death.

ROBBED OF WEALTH

Galveston, Texas, April 23.—Forty-seven passengers, all but one citizens of the United States, who arrived this morning from Vera Cruz on the steamer Texas, told of alleged torture and assassination of Americans in the republic. All the refugees left their lands, homes, furniture and everything they possessed except enough money for passage and the clothes on their backs. Among the entire number there are only four or five trucks.

N. H. Ish, one of the refugees told of the murder of an American citizen named Wait.

"Mr. Wait was a neighbor to me," said Mr. Ish. "He had sold several head of cattle and hidden the money. A band of desperadoes came to his hacienda and demanded money. Failing to get it, they deliberately beheaded him with their machettes, herded his cattle together and drove them off. There are many instances just like this.

"We lived in a little settlement where a colony of eleven American families lived because we were afraid to remain longer. Knowing we would all be killed or tortured. I am 64 years old. I went to Mexico one year ago, put all I had, $1,650, in land and improvements there and today I have only this (showing his two hands) and the clothes on my back. "Before leaving we filed our claims for damages with the American consul in Mexico City."

John T. McFee, a wealthy planter, who went to Mexico two years ago, returned to America minus more than $20,000 and left behind land and live stock. Mr. McFee tells of alleged cruelties practiced on an American woman now in the hospital at Mexico City.

"The bandits visited the home of Mr. Shay, one of my neighbors, about a week before I left the settlement," said Mr. McFee. "and demanded money and guns. He gave them about $12 and one gun, saying that was all he had on the place."

Bandits Beat a Woman. "The bandits then left but returned and demanded more money and arms. Being refused they took Mrs. Shay, tied her down and began beating her feet. Mr. Shay and his son, to stop the torture, gave four guns and $800 in money to the desperadoes, who, after a final beating of the woman, left the place. Mrs. Shay was carried to the hospital at Mexico City where it was found that nearly every bone in her feet had been broken.

"What has been true of the Shay family has been likewise true of scores of other Americans, and by staying there we took our lives in our hands. The bandits are everywhere. The Mexican government is not able to quiet them. Many Americans believe the Madero forces so dislike the Americans that they would rather permit the brigandage than try to stop it. Whenever rumors are true, the bandits disperse, but there is rarely a shot fired."

Many Are Beheaded. Practically every man on board the Texas had a similar story to tell of experiences. Two men who rode horses back into Vera Cruz, after abandoning everything in a narrow pass.

"The only reason we are here," said one of the men, "is because we were lucky enough to beat them to it. "Everywhere you go, except right in the largest cities, you will see deserted houses, barns, livestock stolen, and in many instances the decaying and headless bodies of their owners are left lying about."

"The bandits are in such large numbers and so scattered over the interior that to resist them is useless. We Americans had to give up everything to them when they came to the settlements, no matter how well armed we might be."

TWO YOUNG BOYS REPORTED GONE

Donald Durbrow and Boyd Sarman Are Missing from Home.

PARENTS IN ALARM

Donald Durbrow, aged 12 years, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durbrow, of 312 Harrison street, and Boyd Sarman, of 128 Spy Run avenue, have been missing since early Monday morning. All attempts on the part of the frightened parents to locate the lads have been fruitless, and Monday night the police were notified, but until late this afternoon no clues as to the whereabouts of the two boys had been received.

The Durbrow boy left home as usual Monday morning in company with a younger brother, John, and started to the Bloomingdale school where both are pupils. When reaching the school house the older boy told his brother to return home for a bicycle. At this time the two runaways were together and have not been seen since.

The Sarman boy's clothes are missing from his home, but the Durbrow lad was attired in his school clothes. The young had no money with him. The Sarman brother told the police that the Sarman boy had broken open a small savings bank just a short time ago and it is believed that with a small amount of cash the two lads started out to see the world.

The parents of both boys are worried and have investigated every covey that might lead to the return of their sons and neighboring newspapers have been asked to assist in the search for the two youngsters.

third officer of the ship, was then called to the stand.

Barred the General Public.

Owing to the confusion caused by the constant interruptions during the interrogation of witnesses, the senate committee determined today to exclude the general public. To accomplish this the hearing was transferred to a small room in the senate office building. Only witnesses, those particularly interested in the inquiry and members of the press were admitted to the room.

The change caused disappointment to thousands, most of them women, who crowded about the corridors leading to the marble caucus room as early as 8:30 o'clock. When officers later informed the crowd that the plans had been changed and the general public would be excluded yesterday, there were loud protests. Hundreds remained about the building clamoring for admittance. The crowds filled the hall ways leading to the new room and the police had difficulty in keeping a passageway to the door.

"No sir; the drill was to satisfy the British board of trade. We lowered the boats, sailed around the harbor and then returned to the ship."

The witness said it was customary aboard ship to have boat and fire drills every Sunday. In the Southampton drill Pittman said that approximately eight men went in each boat.

Few Participated in It.

"Then only sixteen men participated in this drill," suggested Senator Smith.

"Yes sir."

"Was there any fire drill on the Titanic after she left Southampton?"

"No sir; none."

"Were you on the bridge during Saturday or Sunday preceding the accident?" Senator Smith asked.

"Oh, yes; part of the time. Saturday afternoon from 12 to 4," said Pittman.

"See any icebergs?"

"No, sir."

"Any field ice?"

"None at all, sir."

"Did you hear anything about ice Saturday?"

"No, sir."

"Did you hear anything about a wireless message about ice Saturday?"

"Yes, I did, about Saturday night or Sunday morning, when Mr. Boxhall put it on the chart," Pittman replied.

"Did you talk with Boxhall or Murdoch or Low regarding the proximity of the Titanic to ice?"

"I did not, sir."

"Did you talk to the captain?"

"It's not my place to talk to the captain."

"Did he talk to you about it?"

"No."

Saw No Ice Sunday.

Asked if he saw any ice on Sunday Pittman said he did not. The fact that the temperature was lower, he said, would not indicate the presence of ice.

"In this country and our country the temperature changes are such that one wants an overcoat one day and cool clothes the next, but that is not due to ice," said Pittman.

Pittman declared in all his navigation of the sea he had seen only one iceberg.

Senator Smith suggested that the proximity of ice was indicated in a number of ways, such as the effect on the sky, the change in temperature, the light of sun or moonlight upon the water. The witness said virtually the only way to discover the proximity of icebergs was to see them. Senator Smith sought to make the witness admit there were other indications.

"Then you are convinced there is no other way of telling?" asked the senator.

Where Science Fails.

"There is no other way. Science may hold that there are numerous ways, but they have never been demonstrated."

The witness described a 100-foot iceberg in the southern ocean. Neither the temperature of the sea nor the temperature of the air was affected by the great mountain of ice.

Sentinel Smith asked Pittman if he knew that temperature tests of the water were made every two hours on the Titanic's voyage from Southampton.

"Yes, sir; it was the custom."

"It was more than a custom, was it not? Wasn't it an attempt to discover the nearness of ice?"

"Not that I know of, sir."

"Did you see the quartermaster on the Titanic test the water?"

"No, but I saw him preparing to do it several times."

"You say the fourth officer reported ice Saturday night and marked it on the chart with a cross?" continued the senator. "Was this mark on the chart on or near the ship's course?"

"As near as I recollect it was north of our course."

Was on Proper Course.

Pittman reiterated statements of others that the Titanic was on her proper course.

"Did you see any ice Monday?"

"Yes. When I was in the lifeboat going to the Carpathia I saw several icebergs. There may have been half a dozen of them."

"Were these bergs high above the water?"

"About 150 feet above the water."

"How many of these large icebergs?"

"Really I can't say."

Sentinel Smith questioned the witness as to his whereabouts on the night of the collision. From 6 to 8 o'clock that evening he said he was on the bridge, after which he went to his berth.

"Did you hear anything about a warning by the Carpathian that ice was in the vicinity?"

"No sir."

"You heard nothing whatever either from Second Officer Lightoller or the captain when you were on the bridge that night?"

"No sir."

Summary of Weather Conditions.

The eastern storm has passed down the St. Lawrence valley, with increased intensity, attended by rain or snow during the last twenty-four hours over New York and New England, and it has been followed by colder weather throughout the central states, frosts being reported as far south as the Ohio river. Over the south Atlantic the heavy rains have occurred, and generally moderating weather is general this morning, with some freezing temperatures over the Rocky Mountain and plateau regions and light frosts as far south as southern Missouri.

In this section fair weather will continue tonight and Wednesday, with warmer weather tonight. Fair weather seems probable for this section for the next two or three days.

of the life boats to handle an ear by Second Officer Lightoller, was in the committee room. J. Bruce Ismay, of the White Star line office, arrived early.

Have No Speed Tests.

Third Officer Pitman took the stand and told in detail his experiences of seventeen years on the seas.

"Were you present during the trial tests of the Titanic?" asked Senator Smith.

"Yes, sir. I was on the bridge most of the time."

The witness said the tests consisted of steaming in circles and in performing other evolutions and in adjusting compasses.

"Were there any trials for speed?" he was asked.

"No sir. I believe they have no such tests on the White Star line."

"Tell the committee the circumstances of the departure from Southampton."

"We left Southampton at 12:15 p. m., Wednesday, April 10. Nothing happened except breaking the morning of the New York, caused by the backwash from our starboard propeller. We got clear and proceeded to Cherbourg."

"How long was the delay?"

"About half an hour."

"What was the weather?"

"Perfect."

"Was it good all the way to the place of the collision?"

"All the way and no heavy seas."

"Was there a starlight sky?"

"Every night and morning."

His Duties on Watch.

Asked to tell his duties when on watch, Pittman said he worked out observations, found deviation of the compass, general supervision around the decks and relieving the bridge if necessary.

"Was it part of your duties to drill the men or go through practice with the men?" asked Senator Smith.

"No sir; I merely gave them orders."

The witness said boat drills always were held at Southampton and at Queenstown. The Titanic's drill at Southampton, he said, consisted of lowering and lifting two boats.

"No other drills done?"

"Anything the drill was to satisfy the British board of trade. We lowered the boats, sailed around the harbor and then returned to the ship."

The witness said it was customary aboard ship to have boat and fire drills every Sunday. In the Southampton drill Pittman said that approximately eight men went in each boat.

Few Participated in It.

"Then only sixteen men participated in this drill," suggested Senator Smith.

"Yes sir."

"Was there any fire drill on the Titanic after she left Southampton?"

"No sir; none."

"Were you on the bridge during Saturday or Sunday preceding the accident?" Senator Smith asked.

"Oh, yes; part of the time. Saturday afternoon from 12 to 4," said Pittman.

"See any icebergs?"

"No, sir."

"Any field ice?"

"None at all, sir."

"Did you hear anything about ice Saturday?"

"No, sir."

"Did you hear anything about a wireless message about ice Saturday?"

"Yes, I did, about Saturday night or Sunday morning, when Mr. Boxhall put it on the chart," Pittman replied.

"Did you talk with Boxhall or Murdoch or Low regarding the proximity of the Titanic to ice?"

"I did not, sir."

"Did you talk to the captain?"

"It's not my place to talk to the captain."

"Did he talk to you about it?"

"No."

Saw No Ice Sunday.

Asked if he saw any ice on Sunday Pittman said he did not. The fact that the temperature was lower, he said, would not indicate the presence of ice.

"In this country and our country the temperature changes are such that one wants an overcoat one day and cool clothes the next, but that is not due to ice," said Pittman.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

TWO AUBURN JOHNS WHO WON IN RACE

John Hebel, Nominated for County Clerk, and John P. Hoff, for Sheriff by DeKalb Democrats.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Auburn, Ind., April 23.—Among the candidates for county office selected at the democratic primaries held in DeKalb county last week were two Johns—John Hebel for county clerk and John P. Hoff, for sheriff, both of Auburn, and, search the county over, the democrats could not have made a better choice. I say this because I know both men, know them well. In a vote of over 2,000 Mr. Hebel was nominated by a majority of 977 and Mr. Hoff, with four contestants in the race, by a plurality of 402, figures that attest their popularity.

Mr. Hebel comes pretty near to being a life long resident of the county and city. He came here when he was two years of age, from Pennsylvania, with his parents. That was in 1864, and with the giving of this date it will not be difficult to figure out how old he is. Few German youths received a better education and when he entered business for himself he was well equipped for it and has been a success. The firm of Hebel Bros. grocers and meat market, has an immense trade, and there isn't a more widely known or more highly esteemed man in the county than John Hebel, "Honest John," he is called.

Mr. Hoff isn't a bit better looking than Mr. Hebel, although he is younger by twenty-two years. For the last four years he has been the deputy sheriff under Sheriff Ralph Thomas. Previous to that he was in the grocery business here in Auburn with his father, one of the oldest merchants in the city. He has proven his efficiency in official duties. He combines with his intellectual abilities a good education, having left the Auburn schools when he was in the senior class to get into business. He remained continuously in it until Sheriff Thomas picked him out as the man he wanted for his deputy.

Thrown into daily contact with them for a period of two years, and a personal friend of these "Two Johns," I can say with the conviction of its truth that the official chains now occupied by W. A. Austin, the county clerk, and Ralph Thomas, the sheriff, will be competently filled when John Hebel and John Hoff are elected to these positions.

VETERAN SOLDIER DEAD.

Last Taps Sounded for Harry Campbell, of Kendallville.

Kendallville, Ind., April 23.—Henry Campbell, aged 79 years, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at his home in Kendallville from heart trouble and infirmities of age. He was a member of the G. A. R., and prominent in the congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church. Among those who survive are two daughters and a son—Mrs. A. Snyder and Mrs. J. Metzner, of Fort Wayne, and Arthur Campbell, of Wabash. There are also three brothers—Samuel, of Auburn; Isaac, of Kimmel and George of Wabash. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning.

BOUGHT 26,217 EGGS.

This Was the Number Warsaw Firm Purchased Last Saturday.

Warsaw, Ind., April 23.—Advertising the fact that they would pay 20 cents a dozen for eggs, the grocery firm of Kline & Peters, of this city, last Saturday was compelled to put a force of clerks on duty to give their entire time to handling the hen's fruit. It was found on Monday morning, after the eggs had all been eased for shipment, that 72 3-5 cases were bought on Saturday.

day. A case holds thirty dozen. This number would represent 2,184 dozen, or 26,217 eggs, and it cost to buy them the sum of $430.92.

The firm ships this product to Boston and pays the country sellers the same price as they get for them, all the cost of the extra work of packing being borne by the grocery house. Kline & Peters are firmly of the opinion that the best way to boost trade in Warsaw is for the merchants to pay more for country produce than any surrounding competing points and then country people will come long distances to this city to trade.

ANTWERP NEWS.

Antwerp, Ohio, April 23.—The Latty estate owning the race track grounds, and the grounds that have been used for baseball in previous years has leased the same to John Anspaugh, who is plowing it and will raise a crop of oats this season.

It is reported that five car load of steel rails were unloaded at Knoxdale Friday as an initiatory act in the building of the Defiance & Fort Wayne Interurban Electric railway. The road parallels the Wabash railroad to this point then the electric runs south to the canal, which it follows into Fort Wayne.

N. G. Osborn and family spent Sunday in Fort Wayne, the guests of her cousin, C. M. Kieley and wife, and Albert J. Bowser and family.

E. J. Kiger, of the Wabash shops, Fort Wayne, visited his family at this place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ginnevan, of the "Ginnevan Shows" passed through this place Monday enroute from their home at Dayton, O., to Ashley, Ind., where the show is now reorganizing for the season.

Owing to the fact that Antwerp was minus a guardian of the peace a few days the past week by the absence from town of Constable Boylan and City Marshal A. W. Brown, the Mayor appointed Clark Wilson as deputy marshal for the time.

John Yager, of Paulding, was an Antwerp visitor Sunday, and was accompanied by his daughter Jean, who returned to her home here with Mrs. E. C. Stenger, her grandma, with whom she makes her home, after a visit with her parents at Paulding.

Frank Lamb was a Fort Wayne visitor Sunday.

Miss Marie Lower, of Toledo, where she holds a responsible position in a large department store, was a Sunday visitor at her home here the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nicholson.

Phillip Murphy, of Decatur, Ind., after several days' visits with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Murphy, returned to his home Sunday.

The family of E. J. Kiger, who have had charge of the Commercial hotel, south of the railroad for the past two years, have sold the most of their furniture and have moved to Fort Wayne this week, where Mr. Kiger has secured steady work with the Wabash railroad in the shops at that place.

W. J. Cowell, living in the Reservoir district, has been suffering with an abscess on his jaw for some time past and Sunday Dr. Dean, of Hicksville, performed an operation, removing a number of teeth and a tumorous growth and the patient is now expected to soon return to his usual good health again.

John Stiner, who had the misfortune to lose his home by fire some few days ago now has material on the ground and will soon commence the erection of a new dwelling house.

Mont Wilson, accompanied by his little daughters, Marguerite and Angerite, of Woodburn, were Sunday visitors here the guests of relatives.

Harlow Trailer and family, of Paulding, were Antwerp visitors Sunday, the guests while here of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trailer.

Tom L. Johnson, who is holding down a good position with the Wabash railway as operator at Wauseon, O., spent Monday at this place the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson.

Will Hertel, who is clerking in the store of the Paulding Dry Goods company at that burg, was an Antwerp visitor Saturday.

WELLS COUNTY DEATHS.

The Passing Away of Two Old and Well Known Residents.

Bluffton, Ind., April 23.—Mrs. Elizabeth Cherry, aged 80 years, died yesterday at her home in this city as the result of paralysis, although she had been in feeble condition for several years, due to her advanced age.

George C. Webber, a retired citizen of Murray, who is well known throughout the northern part of the county, a brother of Zack Webber, of this city, was found dead in his bed Sunday. Coroner Herman Thoma held an inquest and his finding is that death was due to apoplexy.

FATAL MISTAKE OF HUNTINGTON GIRL

Took Paris Green for Headache Powder and Her Death Followed in a Few Hours.

Huntington, Ind., April 23.—After suffering eighteen hours from the effects of Paris green poisoning, Miss Emma Helen Fosnaugh, daughter of Noah Fosnaugh, died Monday, the fatal dose having been taken Sunday.

Miss Fosnaugh, according to her own statement, took the poison by mistake for her headache powder. The poison was kept in a can which was plainly labeled and on which the lid was firmly fixed. Miss Fosnaugh had pried the lid off the can in order to take a dose of the green powder.

After taking the powder Miss Fosnaugh did not tell her parent of her act until about three hours after she had swallowed it. Then a physician was called in a hurry and he made three different trips throughout Sunday night and one Monday morning, just previous to her death.

The deceased was 16 years of age. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and funeral services will be conducted at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Thomas B. Terhune officiating.

LAGRANGE PIONEER DEAD.

Lagrange, Ind., April 23.—William H. Myers, a pioneer resident of this county, dropped dead at his home near Woodruff, this county, yesterday, as the result of heart disease. He was 79 years old at the time of his death and was well known over Lagrange county, where he had many friends. His son, Homer Myers, is principal of the Woodruff graded schools.

WILL PREVENT SPEEDING.

Hartford City, Ind., April 23.—Failure to heed warnings against the violation of the city speed ordinance by automobilists and motorcycleists was followed Monday by the filing of affidavits against six persons who are charged with speeding. The list contains three chauffeurs and three motorcycle drivers. The affidavits were sworn to by Marshal Grover Griffith.

LYRIC THEATER

The Lyric is offering a Thanhouse. "Rejuvenated," one of those that make you think stories. Vaudeville afternoon and evening. Coming Thursday, another Imp special, "The Loan Shark." This film will cause some stir. Friday a novelty picture, "The Fashion Review." It is unique, interesting and instructive story of the proud peasant of clothes. It is a fashion film showing every item of apparel society will wear in 1912, from what they call hats to shoes—a regiment of regal raiment. Next Tuesday the great child labor picture, "The Cry of the Children." Two thousand feet of realism.

LOST 1,800 SHEEP IN STORM.

Tacoma, Wash., April 23.—J. W. Patterson, a sheep raiser, of Glenville, Mont., related here how he lost 1,800 sheep in fifteen minutes during a blizzard last week. The weather was 22 degrees below zero when the 1,800, out of a herd of 3,000 sheep, tumbled over a steep embankment. Snow had been falling continuously for weeks. Blizzards swept it into a deep gulch, which filled up level with the ground. The lost herd sank to the bottom of the drift in the gulch.

STOMACH TROUBLES ENDED NO MORE SICK HEADACHES

Do you feel bright and cheerful—as you should—when you get up in the morning do you feel like you have had a good night's rest and like doing a full day's work; or, do you get up with that "down and out" spirit and feel just as tired and sleepy as when you went to bed?

If you have that "tired all-the-time" feeling go to your druggist—right this minute—get a bottle of Cooper's New Discovery. Take three doses—once before each meal—and if you don't feel better than you have for many a day return the bottle to the druggist and get your money refunded.

After taking a few doses of this medicine there will be no dyspepsia and you will not feel the effects of undigested food in the stomach which causes heartburn, sick headache, or dizziness, and your food will not ferment and cause a bad odor to your breath. The bad taste in your mouth will disappear and you will be so much improved that your condition will surprise you.

Cooper's New Discovery will take the gas from your stomach, cleanse the intestines and besides, will prepare the food for assimilation into the blood, the same as a sound, healthy stomach should do.

You will notice a big improvement in your condition as soon as you begin taking this medicine. Don't put it off. Remember, if you do not feel better after three doses, go back and get your money. After using a full bottle of Cooper's New Discovery you will hardly know yourself. For sale at Dreier Drug Co., 526 Calhoun St., corner Bruckhous; 1402 Calhoun St., corner Bruckhous.

ABOBITE NEWS.

Abbot, Ind., April 23.—Fred Fabling has so far recovered as to be out again but is still a "little weak."

Plenty of old garbage and other unsightly piles of rubbish can still be seen along each side of Main street. Why not get after it and show a little spirit of beautification?

Charles Mollett placed a new windmill in position on his farm last week. The tile mill will resume operations next Monday, the water having left the grounds.

Volley Mills, of the Wabash fencing gang, visited his family last Sunday. School No. 8 closes May 2 with a neat program.

Corn is in great demand in this vicinity and the price is still advancing. Those who have a large supply on hand are holding on to it.

Pearl Zion, of Fort Wayne and assistant foreman in the traction bureau, moved his family to the old Bowman homestead last Friday.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at Mrs. Fred Helwig's next Thursday. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kahough last week, a daughter, Mrs.

Kahough was formerly Miss Ethel Hatfield.

The road supervisor has about all he can look after now, as the roads need his attention in all directions, many dangerous places being visible.

Adam Dinglebeck has a force of men engaged in erecting a new barn for Will Clark.

Mrs. John Buell, who has been on the sick list, is somewhat better. William Roberts will move to Mahon shortly, where he has accepted a good position.

ST. ANDREW'S BAZAR

Began Last Night and Will Continue Throughout Week.

The new church edifice of the St. Andrew's parish will be the scene each evening of this week of interesting events, the bazar given by the members of the congregation being in progress. The opening was last evening and there was a large crowd present. The festivities are held in the basement of the church, but opportunity is given those attending to inspect the auditorium, which is a beautiful one.

The basement room is handsomely decorated and the booths are presided over by the ladies of the church. The different nights have been set aside as special nights for the various congregations. Tonight St. Patrick's, Fort Wayne; St. John's, New Haven; St. Louis, Beaumont; St. Joseph's, El Paso; and St. Mary's, Deatur.

BISHOP AT SOUTH BEND.

Holding Conference With Officers of New Church Body.

Rev. H. J. Alersing, the bishop, left South Bend today holding a conference with the trustees and officers of the St. Salvator's congregation, a new church body composed of former communicants of the St. Stephen's congregation. The members recently purchased a church lot in South Bend and will erect on it a church edifice and school house. The church site cost $5,000. Plans for the edifice are elaborate and the buildings will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

In Church and Cycles. The Bloomingdale and Spies Run divisions of the Ladies' Aid society of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ will hold an all-day's sewing Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Craighead, 824 Greenlawn avenue.

The theme of the Rev. D. H. Guild, the pastor, at the First Methodist prayer meeting Wednesday evening will be "David's Prayer for His House."

Ladies' Society Meets. The Ladies' Sewing society of the Grace Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon in fortnightly session at the home of Mrs. Margaret Klingler, on Gay street.

BLUFFTON NEWS.

Bluffton, Ind., April 23.—Pure Food and Drug Inspector Hutchins, of Indianapolis, was in the city today and a general cleanup order is expected.

Misses Velma Gee and Hazel Straight, of Kendallville, spent Sunday at the home of Miss Eva McLeod, on West Market street.

Thermer Brumbaugh left today for Terre Haute, where he will enter the state normal for the spring term.

L. E. Reynolds spent Sunday in Muncie with his mother, Mrs. Julia Reynolds, who has been sick for some time.

G. D. Shigley, who had the ligaments of his right shoulder torn when his automobile went into a ditch south of Bluffton last Friday evening, was able to be at his home today, although the injury caused him considerable pain.

Mrs. Martha Hupp, who had her arm broken in two places when she was pinned under the machine, is getting along as well as could be expected. The bones protruded through the flesh and this makes her injuries very painful. Mrs. Shigley and Mrs. Ida Russell, the other passengers in the machine, whose injuries were not of a serious nature, are both better.

Andrew Gordon, sr., living four miles west of the city, has been quite sick from a cancerous growth in the throat. Mrs. A. B. Cline has gone to Indianapolis, where she will transact business for the Woman's Home Missionary society.

Geo. C. Weber, a pioneer of Murray and a resident there for the past half century was found dead in bed Sunday morning by his wife who was trying to awaken him for breakfast. His death is given as the cause of his apoplexy. Mr. Weber was seventy-four years of age and had lived in Murray since 1893.

John W. Evans and Miss Ilo Parrish were married Sunday at the home of the bride, near Boneto. The young couple will live in Muncie, where the groom is employed in an automobile factory.

Frank Park left this morning for Marion, where he will enter Marion normal for the spring term.

Mrs. Samuel R. Taylor, who has been confined to her home on Clinton street for several days, is improving and was able to be about the house today for the first time.

MOELLERING GOT ELEVATION WORK

Contract for Grade Separation at Fairfield Avenue is Let.

CHANGE THE DATES

At a session yesterday afternoon the board of public works awarded the contract for grade separation at Fairfield avenue and the Washburn tracks to the Moellering Construction company and today the formality of fixing the bond and doing the other preliminary work was finished up.

Trippier & Son and the Brooks Construction company were the other bidders on the work. The contractors will be required to start the work as soon as possible and to push it rapidly to completion as the work at other points has taught some lessons that will be valuable.

The contract price is a little difficult to arrive at for the reason that so much of the work is to be done by the foot and yard that it can not be calculated in advance.

New License Arrangement. Saloonkeepers in the city have been notified that an arrangement under which the permits issued by the county and by the state will expire at the same time.

As each is granted a license by the county commissioners the city will issue one for a short period to take care of the difference of time in expiration and after the first year all will be in line. Frequently applications have been made and licenses refused by the county board and in such cases demands have been made upon the city for the return of part of the money paid it.

MANAGERS DISCUSS MEDIATION OFFER

strike would throw 200,000 firemen, trainmen, conductors and other railroad employees out of work.

J. C. Stuart, chairman of the general managers, called a conference for this morning to consider the mediation offer.

Whether the railroads would accept the offer of Messrs. Neill and Knapp to act as mediators in the wage controversy with the engineers was discussed at a meeting of the conference committee of the railroads which convened this forenoon. A definite announcement of the railroads' attitude was expected to be made at the conclusion of the conference, probably late this afternoon. The engineers remained in session awaiting the outcome of the railroad managers' deliberations.

Special railroad officials said prior to going into the conference this morning that there was reason to believe the offer of Messrs. Neill and Knapp would be accepted by the railroads.

The Railroads Affected.

The railroads affected by the strike are: Baltimore & Ohio, Bessemer & Lake Erie, Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Susquehanna, Central New England, Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville, Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern, Chicago, Indiana and Southern, Cincinnati Northern, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, Coal & Coke, Delaware & Hudson, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley & Pittsburgh, Erie, Grand Rapids & Indiana, Hocking Valley, Indiana Harbor Belt, Indianapolis Union, Kanawha & Michigan, Lake Erie & Western, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Lehigh Valley, Long Island, Maine Central, Michigan Central, New York Central & Hudson River, New York, Chicago & St. Louis, New York, New Haven & Hartford, New York, Ontario & Western, New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk, New York, Susquehanna & Western, New Jersey & New York, Pennsylvania lines (east), Pennsylvania lines (west), Erie, Reading system, Toledo & Ohio Central, Toledo, St. Louis & Western, Vandalia lines, Western Maryland, Wheeling & Lake Erie, West Side Belt line, Washab Pittsburg terminal.

Only Three Exceptions. The list includes practically all but three of the railroads in the territory roughly described as east of Chicago and north of the Potomac river. The three exceptions are the Central Railroad of New Jersey, whose contract with the engineers does not expire until June 1, and the Central Vermont and Rutland railroads in Vermont, which have a separate agreement with the men employed, so that the result will be their taking up the wage question directly with the men.

The engineers' demands for increased pay were made upon all the railroads concerned Jan. 22, and a committee of general managers of the railroads was appointed to confer in New York with Chief Stone and a board of fifty officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

At the first conference in March, the railroad committee announced that the demands if granted would add to their pay roll $7,563,000 a year, or an increase of 17.63 per cent. Ten days later the railroads formally rejected the demands, declaring that granting the increase would be tantamount to placing a lien of $188,844,000 on the properties which would have preference over the first mortgage bonds and lessen the ability of the roads to make additional improvements and install additional safeguards.

It was also stated that the railroads were not making sufficient net earnings to warrant the increase, and that the increase, if granted, would be followed by demands of other employees, which would result in actual bankruptcy to some of the railroads.

On March 26, Mr. Stone and his lieutenants voted to order the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to ballot on the situation, the question being definitely put whether they would authorize a strike if further negotiations with the railroads should fail. The result of the vote, announced April 12, was declared to be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike or by a percentage of 93.3 of the 25,700 votes cast.

A second joint conference was held here April 17, but came to a deadlock. The engineers presented their demands again, notifying the managers that if their reply was unsatisfactory a strike order might be issued at any time, but the engineers agreed to wait until the night of April 18 for further word from the railroads.

Great Repeated Delays. When that time came Mr. Stuart requested an armistice for forty-eight hours so that members of the committee could be rounded up, and this was granted.

It expired Sunday night, but Mr. Stone agreed to continue it until Monday afternoon and announced that he would await word from the committee at the conclusion of its deliberations before dispatching the assistant chairmen of the brotherhood to their various headquarters for the purpose of calling a strike.

After a day spent in discussion of the situation, the committee of railway managers sent this letter to Chief Stone: "In reply to your favor of the 19th inst., the managers in conference today, and with the approval of the presidents, beg to state:

"They have carefully reconsidered the whole subject at issue, and regret they see no way of modifying the conclusions previously announced.

"(Signed) J. C. Stuart, Chairman."

Nearly an hour before the formal receipt of this letter Mr. Stone, apparently with knowledge that the railroads were in the act of making another refusal, declared that a strike would be called in thirty-six hours.

SEND LETTER TO TAFT.

Railway Craftsmen Appeal for Federal Intervention.

Kansas City, Mo., April 23.—At a session of the federation of federations, an organization of railway craft formed here yesterday, which lasted until early today, officers were elected for the ensuing year. They are:

President, W. O. Wharton, machinist, St. Louis; vice president, George W. Pring, boilermaker, Des Moines; secretary and treasurer, John Scott, brotherhood of railway car men, San Francisco.

The executive council will be composed of all the international presidents of the affiliated organizations.

Besides the election of officers, the federation decided to send a letter to President Taft, asking federal intervention in the present strike of the car men on the Harriman lines and the Illinois Central railway.

The letter tells the president that a strike of 300,000 members of the federation will be called unless action is taken.

SCHOOL BANK IS SUCCESSFUL

Jefferson School Children Have Deposited More Than $100.

THE PUPILS LIKE IT

The savings bank established a month ago at the Jefferson street school is meeting with unlimited success and the scholars are exhibiting unusual interest in the department. The bank now numbers 101 depositors who have accounts totaling $125. Each week the fund has been added to in amounts ranging from $20 to $25. More than 100 pupils at the school already have accounts in different downtown institutions, and with the 101 in the school bank, the Jefferson school is admirably represented in the financial institutions of the city.

Deposits are received at the school every Monday morning, and yesterday one of the lower grades, consisting of the youngest pupils in the school, deposited $5.83. It is understood that other schools of the city plan to establish savings banks at the beginning of the term next autumn.

Don't Experiment

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Fort Wayne Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Fort Wayne. Follow the advice of a Fort Wayne citizen.

Mrs. Anthony Eldert, 1236 Summit ave., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "My back was weak and painful and as another member of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit when suffering from kidney trouble, I procured this remedy from Meyer Bros. Co.'s drug store. Its use disposed of my trouble and proved of benefit in every way. I do not think Doan's Kidney Pills have an equal in curing kidney complaint." (Statement given in April, 1905.)

On July 1, 1910, Mrs. Eldert added to the above: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity. This remedy should be used in every case of kidney complaint."

Miss Bohyer will play a capriccio brilliant by Mendelssohn at the concert.

A TALK ABOUT HOUSECLEANING

Spring is coming, and in the words of the housewife, the sun will soon be "showing up everything." If it is true that in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, it is equally true that at the same period of the year a woman's thoughts turn toward spring cleaning and the renovation, redecoration and refurnishing of her home.

We get accustomed to look forward to the annual clean out, not without some feelings of regret, but the average woman is interested in the after-effects, and is willing to put up with the momentary inconveniences.

Men, on the other hand, view this season with fear and dread. It is not to be avoided. There must be a spring cleaning. In other words, the dust in all the house, for the sake of the germs in it, must be allowed to rise up in a stifling cloud, to settle down upon the tables and chairs and look after it's over. And the walls of each room must be scraped and thumped, and corners must be leaned up against the walls, and a certain amount of painting and washing off of paint must go on—and every now and then heavy furniture objects, like mops and hammers and blocks of putty stone and hard soap, must be dropped, with dull thuds, either downstairs, or out of the window, or into the room to which you have gone for refuge.

A Woman's Privilege

It is no good protesting or reasoning. Spring cleaning is, as it were, a woman's privilege, like the right to drop things in street cars and to carry no purse and to stay a long while at the book of the day and to move up in the elevator. Man might as well grin and bear it, for spring cleaning is a law.

In fact, spring has come so early this season that the usually deferred duty is being undertaken weeks before the usual time. Many housewives are ordering the campaign to be undertaken before Easter, so that their thoughts may be taken off the problems of the day and the season of no fairs may be hastened.

The first operation is that of taking up stair and room carpets and all rugs, and if you do not send them to a professional cleaner, have them most thoroughly shaken, beaten and rolled up.

Now have the fireplaces cleaned, and then the floors and staircases scrubbed to the last degree with sanitary soap. Each room should be finished in order, the top of the house being taken in hand first.

All varnished papers may be washed with soap and water, and as an alternative, try half a pint of paraffin stirred into a pail of warm water. Rub the liquid with a sparing hand on a polished wooden cloth over the surface, and polish with a linen cloth. Any colored varnished paint may be washed with tea.

PHILOSOPHY OF CLOTHES.

We know that clothes are the mark of civilization, and we are moved to speculation as to how much they are an expression of an age of work or an age of leisure. Men were the first to discard finery and adopt the plain and utilitarian coat and trousers of present day wear; for these garments are best suited to the world's work, and the befrilled and bewigged dandies of the eighteenth century would not strike us as being fitted for the journey by bus, train or subway of the business man.

To woman was left the decorative dress, until she followed men into the working arena; and then she also adopted the plainer workmanlike coat and skirt. Frills and furbelows were equally out of place for her.

But the importance of clothes is by no means sunk under the exigencies of economic pressure, for even men blossom out at times into some sort of apparel which commands respect. The robe is the most emblematic of departed glory; it is the costume of worship and of dignity. The robed man must impress his fellow creatures.

A king, for royal functions, dons the robe of state. The judge and the clergyman cling to robes to give them that recognition which is due to the profession and rank which they represent. In contrast let us take the soldier and the sailor, and consider how different the workmanlike suit must be.

With woman it is much the same. The flowing gown, the trained forment, gives importance and dignity, and is reserved for special ceremonies, while the convenient garment is adopted for general wear. And that is why in spite of attempted revivals of old styles of decorative dress, there will be no possibility of uprooting the plain tailor made and the simple skirt. While women work they must dress accordingly.

HINTS TO THE HOSTESS.

"Dickens parties" are all the rage just now. Hostesses are giving fancy dinners and dances where every man or woman, boy or girl, appears as some favorite character out of the Dickens novels. And, more, the actual meals depicted in this or that well known story are being reproduced with amazing fidelity.

You remember the Christmas party in "Pickwick." That was an exhilarating entertainment which could not be too often repeated.

Another meal, odd but delicious, we recall in "Pickwick," when the hero of that immortal work, accompanied by various old cronies, joined the Wardles at a picnic and partook of lobster and cucumber, pale ale and other delicacies of a character not usually combined.

Homely, Yet Admired and Envied; Her Secret

"The convention crowd in the lobby made a path for her, east admiring side glances, then with longing eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Pennsylvania Hotel in Detroit. The incident was recalled when I chanced to sit across the table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? She wasn't handsome; she was looking in form and feature. Yet she did seem marvellously fascinating. Her complexion must be the secret, really. I've never picked up the equal. Venturing to pick up acquaintance, I learned the reason. 'I know I'm not built for beauty,' she smiled, 'but I've tried to make the most of my one charm. I've learned that men either make-ups and artificiality. I've discovered there are just two things I've ever seen that promote natural beauty and youthful appearance. 'When my complexion begins to age, I get an ounce of marmalade wax at the drug store, apply it under the chin, and wash it off in the morning. This gradually takes off the outer skin, then I have a brand new complexion, incomparably beautiful, as you see. 'What's next?' I asked her. At her invitation I bathed my face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saffron in a half-pint of white beer. It works like magic.'—Mona Morrow of Town Tattler.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

No Alum — No Lime Phosphate

The first social effort of Mr. Donbey and his second wife is another entertainment which may be undertaken. It is an unnecessary adjunct of it, everything connected with the dinner party being a freezing nature, from the fair Edith's haughty treatment of her guests to the anecdote told by her relative, Lord Fenix, about a bride who was bought and a husband sold.

A more genial party would be a tea at a Betsy Trotwood, the aunt of David Copperfield, with Jane, her little servant, to wait at the table, and David himself, and Mr. Dick, not forgetting his kite, at the board.

There is a cosy tea, too, in the "Old Curiosity Shop," of fresh brown bread and butter, shrimps, hot tea and water-cress, which might prove appetizing enough.

THE SEASON'S NOVELTIES.

Such pretty frocks are made up in summer materials. On their part there is neither exaggeration nor over-trimming. Black and white are immensely popular, and a touch of black is considered chic, while as likely as not there will be also at least a soupcon of orange. Many of the striped frocks are quite daring in their combined originality and simplicity, the former consisting in the very clever arrangement of the lines, the latter in the complete absence of trimming except for a binding of black satin.

So far as can be foretold, by the way, countless miles of satin will be used up in this year of grace—as indeed in matters sartorial 1912 may confidently be reckoned. Robes and gowns of satin meteor, charmes and paillette are becoming greatly worn, and the material is first favorite among trimmings. However, the season is eclectic, and no one will grudge the generous space left for the rivals of satin—the tulle, crepe and Turkish toweling—which are equally in the foremost march of fashion.

Scald a pint of milk and set aside to cool. When lukewarm add one-half of a cake of compressed yeast dissolved in a half cupful of warm water and sufficient sifted flour to make a drop batter. Beat hard for a moment, cover and set aside until light. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter and stir it into the sponge with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of salt, then add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Knead on the board until the dough feels very smooth and velvety to the hands, then return to the bowl, cover and again set aside until doubled in bulk. Shape into small balls, arrange on a floured cloth, cover with a second cloth and let stand undisturbed until light. Across the center of each ball brush round the edge with soft butter, fold and press the edges lightly together. Place an inch apart on hot buttered pans, let stand until light again, then bake in a quick oven for fifteen minutes.

Strawberry Sponge.
Soak a half package of granulated gelatin in a half cupful of cold water. Boil together for a moment one cupful of sugar and a scant cupful of boiling water, add the soaked gelatin and stir until dissolved; take from the fire, add the juice of a half lemon and strain. When this has cooled and is beginning to thicken whip the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth. Gradually mix with the thickening jelly and whip until very spongy and quite stiff. Rinse a mold with cold water and fill it with alternate layers of the sponge and berries cut fine. Serve ice cold with cream.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN.

Victoria: No; some of no kind or in any form should be used as a shampoo. All soap contains "free" alkali, which is too strong for the hair. It makes the hair split, become brittle, dull, lustrous and "strawny." A perfect and very simple shampoo prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of ammonia in a cup of hot water will cleanse your hair and scalp thoroughly, and leave it ever so soft, bright and fluffy. This shampoo removes dandruff and keeps the scalp in good condition, makes the hair dry quickly and evenly without streaking and gives it its most delightful glossy sheen.

A. B. C. The electric needle is too painful. Mix a little powdered borax with water then soak the hair, wash the hair with water; after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hair will have vanished. This treatment leaves the skin soft and free from blemish.

Lillian R. You can make your eyebrows grow thick and silken by rubbing procton on with forefinger. Eyebrows, too, will come in long and silken, with a delightful curl, if procton be applied to hair-roots with forefinger, and rubbed Exercise very and do not get any where no hair is wanted.

Maudie: Your pimply, yellow skin is due to impure blood. You should correct this condition before warm weather comes and so avoid worse troubles. To quickly purify your blood, try this home-made tonic. Dissolve 1 cupful sugar and 1 ounce hardens in 1 pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a quart. A tablespoonful of this splendid tonic taken before meals will quickly clear your blood, and your complexion and sallowness will give way to a rosy, healthy complexion. This is the three-fold I have ever found for purifying the blood, giving me energy and building up a run-down condition of the body. You are sure to get splendid results from its use.

Emma S. To make your eyes clear and sparkling, try this simple eye tonic. Dissolve an ounce of erys in a pint of water and use a few drops in each eye twice a day. This tonic is very soothing and strengthening and will rid your eyes of all weakness and inflammation.

matation, and make them strong and beautiful. A prominent oculist informed me that he uses this tonic with remarkable success in treating eye-troubles generally. It is excellent for granulated lids.

Lily: To have a smooth, rosy complexion that does not look artificial, you must not use face powder. Use instead this lotion. Dissolve in 1/2 pint witch hazel (or hot water) 4 ounces spermac, then add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This lotion will remove the skin, salubrious look and give to your skin a clean, clear, wholesome look. It does not slow or rub off like powder and is unguished as a skin whitener and complexion beautifier. I find this lotion fine for cold sores and preventing chapping.

Trixie P. I would not advise you to try any of those obesity cures you mention. At least part of them are nothing but worthless takes. If you want a safe fat-reducer that will give splendid results, dissolve 1 ounce of erys in 1/2 pint hot water and take a tablespoonful before meals. This remedy removes excess fat rapidly without dieting or fatiguing exercises, and is absolutely harmless, also inexpensive. It leaves the skin smooth and unrinkled.

Hattie: The formula for that popular French hair-grower you speak of is as follows: Mix together 1/2 pint alcohol, 1/2 pint cold water and 1 ounce quinine. Make it warm, but as state hair-tonics are worthless. Rub this into the scalp twice a week and you will soon notice your hair getting thicker, longer and more silky and wavy. This splendid tonic is an unfailing remedy for dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp. It is good for both light and dark hair.

Miss Jennie: A splendid beauty cream that will not grow hair or make the skin shine can easily be prepared by stirring into 1/2 pint cold water 1 ounce almond oil and 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Use this night and morning and your skin will not only be just as smooth, clear and soft as you could wish it to be, but for removing dirt from the pores, preventing blackheads and reducing enlarged pores. You are sure to find this a grand complexion-cream.

Dr. Hamilton will spend two years in pursuit of his medical studies in the principal cities of Europe.

HOLDING FREQUENT REHEARSALS

George Herbert, Stage Manager, Pleased With "The Romany Maid."

Three weeks from tonight local talent will produce John E. Archer's new comic opera, "The Romany Maid," at the Majestic theater. The first rehearsal of the complete first act was held last night with George Herbert, stage director from Chicago, in charge, and went off with a snap that indicates a still greater success and hold on popular favor than the previous work, "The Red Letter." Mr. Herbert, whose work is well known here, came from Lafayette, where he put on a play by the Lafayette players of Purdue university. The Lafayette Morning Journal, speaking of the production, said of Mr. Herbert: "Throughout the entire production is detected the master hand of George Herbert, whose reputation as a stage director is too well known in Lafayette to need any introduction." Mr. Herbert was encouraging to the cast and pleased at the work. Rehearsals are now being held in the Elektron building and will be frequent. The members of the cast will rehearse tonight and Thursday night. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings the chorus will rehearse and everybody will be in hand Saturday evenings.

LOVE BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE

CENTRAL SEASON BOOKED TO OPEN

Provided Weather Man is in Good Humor Dozen Clubs Will Start.

IT IS HARD TO FIGURE WEAKER IN THE BOX

THE SCHEDULE.
Fort Wayne at Dayton.
Terre Haute at South Bend.
Grand Rapids at Springfield.
Youngstown at Zanesville.
Erie at Canton.
Wheeling at Akron.

If weather conditions are favorable the only dozen-club league in the baseball world will open the season of 1912 tomorrow afternoon with the usual parades and band concerts and between now and last day the owners will have determined whether or not a twelve-club league proposition is a profitable idea.

There is no basis from which to figure the relative strength of the clubs for the reason that so many of them have never played in class B ball, while the changes in others make it impossible to get any sort of a line on them before they have been in action.

If Williams is as good an outfielder as Spencer, Kitz as strong at third as Enos Kirkpatrick and Beck can play first and hit as well as Don Cameron and a pitcher can be developed to take the place of Walter Justice, Dayton will be as strong as when it won the championship last season. Compton has been selected to pitch the opener against Fort Wayne.

These problems apply to all the clubs. The manager of the Grand Rapids will start his season with practically the same men he closed with in 1911. Lejeune will be of much service to him in the outfield. Phil Geler was and utility man, valuable as a lead-off and utility man, although he cannot hit as well as John "Lefty" Core. Hadley at short is as good as R. B. Kelley was last season and with a good start the Black Stockings ought to figure in the race.

Redley is a better man than Rube DeGroot. Pandey will strengthen the infield and if Zanesville gets Hugo Svarling and hit line before the season starts the club will look a bit more like a winner than the hat as he is a better catcher than Haggdale.

Harry Arndt has so many new men at South Bend that it will be out of the question to get any sort of a line on his team until the season is ten days old. If Anderson can get a couple of pitchers for Wheeling he ought to figure in the race. His presence in the outfield, his gameness and hard fighting will help his club wonderfully and the players secured last week from Pittsburgh have added very materially to his team.

Aggie Grant has a new lot at Terre Haute but it's a pinch he can't have no worse club than represented the city last season. He is the best manager the team has had since it became a member of the Central league and his stamp of approval insures that a youngster he accepts has something to entitle him to a berth.

Springfield, Erie, Canton, Youngstown and Akron are all new to the Central league. None of the managers know the playing strength of the organization, whether or not they have fitted out their clubs to enter class B baseball will be settled after they have gone around the circuit.

The league starts on a better basis than at any time in its history. Expenses have been cut to where the gate receipts will take care of them, all the clubs have good backing and the general outlook is favorable.

AUSTRALIA'S LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION TO MEET WOLGAST FOR THE TITLE

(By Tom S. Andrews.)
The matching of Ad Wolgast, world's lightweight, and Hughie McEgan, Australian champion, will result in a real international battle.

Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, has arranged to bring McEgan here and Tom McCarey, the Los Angeles promoter, has closed with Wolgast, who stipulates that the Australian bet $5,000 on the side.

As far as the side bet is concerned there will be no trouble for McEgan can double the amount easily. He is well liked in the land of the southern cross and when Australians fancy a man, they do not stop over a little thing like a few thousands.

The battle should be a card and ought to draw over $50,000. The betting will not be one-sided, for McEgan will have plenty of backing and at least a dozen sports will accompany him.

McEgan makes the lightweight limit easily. He has never scaled more than 133 or 134 pounds. I saw him in a half dozen battles and his only defeat was at the hands of Cyclone Johnny Thompson, who weighed 162. He defeated Ray Bronson, Arthur Douglas, the South African champion, and boxed Johnny Summers a draw, although outweighted 10 pounds.

FEW CHANGES TO GUAGE THE TEAM

Will Take Week or Two to Get Good Line on the Local Club.

WEAKER IN THE BOX

Spring practice here has afforded few chances to gauge the team that will represent Fort Wayne in the Central league this season, as the weather has been against conditioning and only once have the players engaged in a real game of baseball.

Unless Louell and Renfer prove as good pitchers as George Harden and Ed Puffer were last season the club will be weaker in the pitching department than it was at the close of 1911 but no weaker than when Manager James Casey cast his bat into the ring in the first conflict at Wheeling.

Charlie Albert's arm has not gotten strong enough to indicate what can be expected of him in a full game, but he has shown speed and control in short workouts. Players who worked in the Southern Michigan league insist that he had a bad season in 1911 and that he is capable of better work than his record shows and he is impressed with the idea that he is in for a good year, if he is it will help a lot.

There is no doubt on McManus' ability to pitch. He has a good arm, plenty of speed, good control and a fadeaway that ought to make him famous, but he has had trouble in mastering inside ball and this is his weakness. If he improves in this department he will make the club a valuable man.

Goldrick Left Behind.
Refers to the fact on the first trip to the team and Goldrick will be left at home on account of a sore arm. The latter has not rounded to form but judging from his performances of last season he has the making of a good pitcher in him.

In the managerial department the Fort Wayne club will be stronger. Frank Shaughnessy is young, ambitious, has had managerial experience, knows baseball thoroughly and has a wonderful knack of imparting his knowledge to his players.

Without making himself unpopular with his men he has the faculty of controlling them and preserving discipline and he is thoroughly satisfied with his surroundings and will not be looking for the end of the season so that he can get away, but will work with the expectation of holding his present berth for several years to come.

As a player he will rank with any outfielder in the Central league and his presence on the team will probably strengthen it very materially. Baseball is his business. He has made some money out of it and he expects to make more, and he has everything in the world to stimulate him here.

His position in the outfield will make that department of the game as strong as it was last season. Harry Martin ought to be as strong in the catching department as Jack Onks. Even if he doesn't turn out as well to bases, and this should not be taken as an assertion that he will fall in his task, he is a better batsman and faster on the base lines.

"He may throw just as well as Ernie Dowd because he has a good arm but if he doesn't the receiving contingent will be no weaker than in 1911. Bill Bailey is to be retained and there is no reason to believe that he is not as good as he was last season.

With the exception of Boney Fabrice the infield will be the same as it was in 1911. The new shortstop has a hard job ahead of him. Eddie Justice was a most popular and earnest ball player and in addition he did some stopstopping in the highly sensational.

In practice Fabrice looks good. He can go either way for a ground ball, gets it away quickly and can throw from most any position. He covers a base well and can receive a throw and his ability to reach runners will not be known until he has gone through a few games. If he hits at a fair clip he will be an acceptable substitute for Justice. Clancy is in condition and the same can be said of McLafferty and Vandegrift. The team finished second last year and the year before and if two pitchers are developed it ought not to do worse this year.

The men left this afternoon for Dayton. All of the in and outfielders, the two catchers and Pitchers Alberts, Valtier, McManus and Beiersdoerfer were taken and Louell and Renfer have been instructed to join the club there. This will give the club six pitchers for the first six games.

Schmidt, who has been left behind, because he will probably not be needed on the trip. In event of an injury to any of the regulars he can easily be reached in a few hours, so it will not be necessary to carry him.

Robertson, Kubat and Jopper have been placed with the Ottawa team of the Canadian league, and only Pitcher Roth remains to be disposed of. He may go to Aurora, Ill.

FORT WAYNE CATCHING STAFF FOR 1912 GOOD SCORES IN THE FIRST DASH

Carr Hits High Places and Several Bowlers Follow Him.

SECOND GAME IS TIED

Frank "Chick" Carr, of the Alt Heidelberg team, set the mark for some high scoring in the first dash of the week at the Metropolitan alley last night when he rolled 256 in his first game and finished with a total of 624 for his three efforts, taking high score and the best average for three games. He fell below the double century marks in his second.

After a bad start Tucker warmed up to his work a bit and in the third he rolled 234, which was second high score for the series, but his low mark in the first prevented him from getting a big average for his series.

Dave Bruno doubled twice in his series and although he fell one pin short of a 200 average, he is entitled to one under the rule by which averages are generally computed. Zurbach helped along the chances of his club by tabbing 207 in his second game, but the best he got was a tie in the roll-off the Alt Heidelbergers won. The scores:

COULON PLANS CHANGED.
May Not Get Chance to Meet Men in New York.
Chicago, Ill., April 23.—Johnny Coulon has postponed his trip to New York. The Chicago White Sox came at the eleventh hour, just as the banquet was being packed his ring regalia preparatory to starting east, a message from Gil Rogers, the White Sox manager, came to the effect that Coulon was to be boxed two or three of the classiest little men around Manhattan.

The Chicago White Sox have a new scheme to break up the double steal, the man on first. As soon as he leads off the first baseman follows him and the catcher calls for a pitch out. The short stop runs in for a short throw and the second baseman hikes to second, while the pitcher, as soon as he has pitched the ball, runs to first to take a throw. If by any chance the batter should reach out and hit the ball.

With the first baseman on his heels, the ball going to the shortstop and the second baseman on the bag, the runner finds himself cornered. As soon as he gets the ball the shortstop lines it to the first baseman, who either touches the runner or, if necessary, throws to the second baseman. The job. It is all done as the runner on third has run home.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 23.—Students of the University of Minnesota today signified a favorable attitude toward withdrawing from the big eight conference in a resolution submitted to the university senate, which has final power in shaping the athletic policy of the university.

The students' council conducted a canvass in practically every class in each college and a vote was taken. The senate is composed of faculty members, who will act at the call of President George Vincent.

The vote, calling for secession and maintenance of a scholarship standard as a basis of eligibility for athletics, was practically unanimous.

TO OPEN BIG COAL FIELD.

British Columbian Syndicate to Spend Millions Developing Territory.

Spokane, Wash., April 23.—Twelve million dollars will be expended by the Northern Anthracite syndicate, recently organized by Andrew Laidlaw of Spokane, and associates in Eastern Canada, in developing 12,800 acres of coal lands in the Groundhog Mountain district of British Columbia, 150 miles north of Hazelton. This work, which will occupy three years, includes the building of a railroad from the forks of the Skeena and Stikine rivers to the mouth of the Nasa river and Nasoga Gulf, also bunkers at points on the Pacific coast. Surveys for the railroad will be made this spring.
R. C. Campbell-Johnson, a mining engineer, who has just returned from a prospecting trip to the interior, says
the northern part of the province contains the largest deposit of anthracite coal in the world. He reports that it is not necessary to make test borings, as the vein outcrops constantly. The field is 70 miles in length and 30 miles

PICKS BOYS' SCHOOL TRUSTEE.

Marshall Names George Webster, Republican Banker of Marion.

Indianapolis, April 23.—Governor Marshall yesterday appointed George Webster, Jr., a republican banker of Marion, Ind., a member on the board of trustees of the Indiana Boys' school at Plunfield.
The appointment was made to fill the vacancy left by the death of M. B. Thomas of Wabash college. The term expires April 10, 1915. Guy C. Hanna, superintendent of the school, has reported to the governor that the management of the school has been successful in its attempted solution of the drinking water problem at the institution. Wells, fifty-two feet deep, now will supply the water.
An epidemic of typhoid fever in 1910 resulted in several deaths. The cause of the sickness was the drinking water,
according to experts.

Al. W. Kwozalla, 834 No. 5th St.
Terre Haute, Ind., the well known labor union leader, says: "I had a severe case of kidney trouble and took a great deal of medicine but derived no benefit from them. While suffering greatly I took Foley's Kidney Pills and in a short time they cured me and I highly recommend them." Dreier Drug Co., Two

Hope Hospital Superintendent Reads Paper at Lafayette.

CONVENTION BEGINS

Lafayette, Ind., April 23.—The State Association of Superintendents of Hospital Training Schools for Nurses held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Home hospital, and the members who attended will remain for the nurses' convention.

The Superintendents association is an organization in itself, but always holds its session in conjunction with the nurses' convention, the members of the Superintendents' organization all belonging to the main association.

Miss Fannie Kuecht, superintendent of the Home hospital, welcomed the visitors. Miss Horn of the Methodist hospital at Indianapolis, responded, and Miss Logan of Fort Wayne read an interesting paper.

Mrs. Henrietta W. Calvin, professor of household economics of Purdue, spoke on "Woman's Suffrage." Miss Ethel Chisholm of Terre Haute presided at the State Superintendents' association in the afternoon.

A reception was given last night for the visiting superintendents at the Home hospital. Dr. Maude McConnell of Sullivan, state president of the Nurses' association, and several other leading members of the association arrived last night.
Nearly 100 members are here to attend the meeting, which began today.

Mr. H. W. Winkler, 328 Pustan Ave., Evansville, Ind., says he was cured of a severe case of kidney trouble through Foley's Kidney Pills. He writes: "My kidneys were in bad shape and I suffered terribly with pain in my back, and the kidney action was very irregular. I took Foley's Kidney Pills and now I am perfectly well and feel like a new man." Dreier Drug Co., Two

An Appeal for Hope Hospital

Hope hospital is one of a cluster of Fort Wayne's most useful and notable institutions in which every citizen has a right to feel pride.

But pride pays no bills and a live hospital cannot thrive that way.

Hence this appeal to the people of Fort Wayne for support and for endowment. As the doors of this hospital are open to every man, woman and child in physical distress, that appeal is justly to all men and women of whatever religious application, color or social life.

The hospital is not conducted for profit, but operates in the name of applied brotherhood as taught by the spirit of God, the common Father of all mankind.
It, of course, receives fair compensation for services rendered to patients who can pay, but many, many patients are received and treated in the name of that charity which is the greatest of the three graces.

In order that the hospital might properly do its work, its managers have been forced to employ borrowed money, amounting at the last report to $32, 455.60. This, of course, imposes a heavy interest charge, which, if free to be devoted to the relief work of the hospital, would greatly swell the sum of the benefits it confers upon the patients and the people of Fort Wayne.

Therefore, Hope hospital needs money to wipe out this debt, but should have an endowment fund earning an interest that will give the hospital means to support its free services to those unable to pay.

The friends of the hospital have concluded to make their appeal to the people of Fort Wayne and they have an abundant faith that loyalty and love for applied righteousness and relief on the part of the people will induce a liberal support of the movement. It is needless to say that the funds subscribed will be appropriated for relief of human suffering and not for private gain. The income from the patients able to pay for the services received are applied to the maintenance of the hospital. This city could not dispose with Hope hospital.

If it were closed up the other facilities
The city will never be able to get along with less hospitals, and Hope's splendid record in the past under its load of debt is conclusive evidence that it deserves support.

The hospital gave last year 400 days of free care to patients, thus proving both the great need of this hospital and the great work it is doing. It treated a total of 1431 patients, of whom 447 were from out of town. The fame of the hospital has spread far from the city's boundaries. With more funds and with freedom from debt its usefulness could be multiplied many times.

There can be no satisfaction on earth superior to that which brings aid to fellow creatures in physical pain. Hope hospital is the concrete, inspiring opportunity to buy this satisfaction. Look at your subscription as a purchase of a satisfaction to be had in no other way and which yields a happiness of the highest order. Hope hospital is a living, useful witness of the spirit of divine love that rules our civilization and gives our free government stability. It deserves to be freed from the smothering weight of debt and to be provided with means to expand its usefulness many times until no human being in its reach shall fail to share in its blessings if stricken with suffering.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

NOT LOOKING FOR A STRIKE

Local Railway Officials and Employees Are Quite Optimistic.

BUSINESS FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Up for Consideration by the Several Labor Unions—Shop News.

In railway circles in Fort Wayne there is no apparent unrest nor indication that the employees expect a strike. Of the several engineers approached on the subject this morning, none expressed the belief that there would be serious trouble and the same opinion prevails among the officials. Negotiations are being conducted on easy and as far as could be learned nobody here has any information concerning them to give out. The Nickel Plate men are represented by Engineer Phipps, of Bellevue, and the Pennsylvania by Engineer Johnson, of the Eastern division of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago road. The telegraphic news concerning the situation is of a pacific character.

SENT IT TO UNIONS.

Report on Business Government Submitted to Them.

The committee assigned by the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor to the task of investigating the "business form of government," as proposed by President Theodore F. Thieme, of the Wayne Knitting mills, made a report to the federation last night, recommending the endorsement of the plan. A communication upon the same subject from Mr. Thieme, in which he appointed James A. Lechler, president of the federation, as a member of the state committee, in case the committee made a favorable report, and the same was concurred in by the federation, was read at the meeting. The report of the committee was not concurred in, however, but after a lengthy discussion, a resolution referring it to the various unions to report back to the federation at the second regular meeting in May was introduced and adopted. The report of the business form of government committee read as follows:

Greeting:
We, your committee, appointed to investigate the business form of government beg leave to report as follows:
After thoroughly investigating the proposed form for the government of cities, we recommend the endorsement of the proposed plan for the following reasons:

First—Because it is a system of government under which organized labor can take an active and useful part in city government and not create partisan distractions within its own ranks. The business plan is based upon absolutely non-partisan principles.

Second—It establishes the initiative and referendum, two principles for which organized labor has long contended, and which it extensively practices in the administration of its own bodies.

Third—It provides for the recall, and in a manner which cannot be abused, but assures its just application by which mistakes may be corrected, and conflicting factions can get a fair chance for majority expression on any subject and differences of opinion between the people and public officials—their servants—may be submitted to them and settled by the rule of the majority—the people.

Fourth—It establishes the merit system of public service and demands expert efficiency as the basic principle of executive administration of public business. In these particulars the business plan follows principles for which organized labor has long contended.

Fifth—The business plan is an advanced enlightened step toward better government of municipalities, and so far as your committee is able to judge a more satisfactory and scientific plan of management and a more democratic system of control than any form now practiced.

Sixth—Expert efficiency in the administration of municipal business will give the taxpayer far more return for the money collected and spent than under the present system, and this is of material consequence to the workingmen of any city, and especially so to those of Fort Wayne, where so vast a number of workingmen own their own homes or are paying for them.

We recommend that the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor endorse a member of this body, to be selected by Mr. Thieme, and appointed by him as a member of the executive board of the business plan committee of the state of Indiana as a representative of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor.

E. T. DREW.

Another matter to attract considerable attention was the report of H. C. Holtje, of the Cigar-makers' union, concerning the reorganization of the building laborers and hod-carriers' union. Mr. Holtje said that the men interested in the reorganization of the union met at the home of one of their number with Frank Craigie and Mr. Holtje, who represented the federation. The sentiment for reorganization appeared to be almost unanimous and the meeting resulted in the election of the following temporary officers: President, Hiram Schrader; vice president, Alonzo Abbott; financial secretary, Vera Snyder; recording secretary, Moses Taylor; treasurer, Robert Blanks; sergeant-at-arms, Henry Warfield. Those at the meeting referred to were plasterers' attendants, but they are assured of the friends feeling of the masons' attendants and hope to get all of them in the union. A meeting will be held at Elite hall next Friday evening, at which all men eligible to membership in the union are earnestly requested to be present.

Other matters discussed at the meeting were a proposition made by J. W. Toney, of the Pipefitters, to revise the Union Labor directory and the announcement that the painters' strike was still on. The bond issue committee did not report, but will make a report May 15.

GOES WEST TO LIVE.

Thomas Shaw Lived Here Over Twenty-Five Years.

Thomas Shaw, who has been a resident of this city for more than a quarter of a century, will leave in a few days for Everett, Wash., to join his son, George W. Loutitt, who is an attorney and councillor at law at that point. Mr. Shaw was born at Lancaster, England, October 28, 1839. He came to this country August 27, 1878, coming straight to Fort Wayne. His first employment was in the Pittsburgh shops, where he remained for over a year. He left them, however, to engage with the Ross Foundry and Machine company, where he remained for twenty-seven years, having charge of the flask boxes in the foundry. After this continued period of service Mr. Shaw decided to retire and left their employ. He soon found, however, that the life of leisure was not as enjoyable as one of industry, so again entered active work with S. F. Bowser & Company, Inc. He remained with them two years, having tendered his resignation

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add a pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

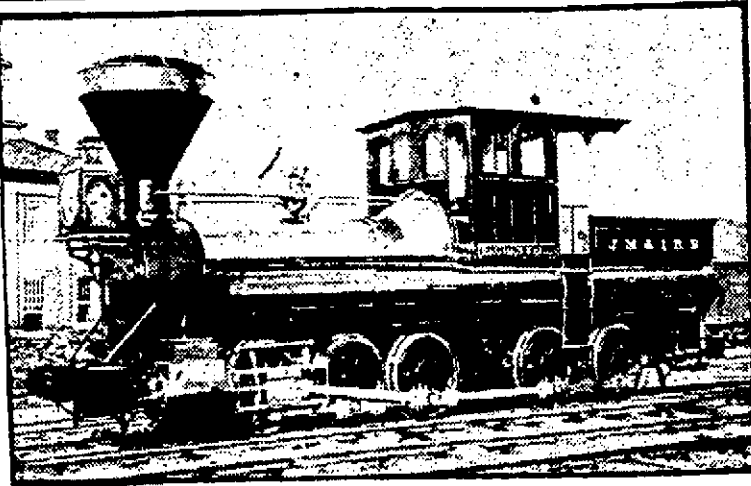

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, bronchitis, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quinine and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

The recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you.

"REUBEN WELLS," ONCE WORLD-FAMED ENGINE.

Forty-four years ago the locomotive represented in the above picture attracted more attention from all quarters of the civilized world than any other engine since the days the old John Bull locomotive was first put into service in America. This engine was designed by and built under the personal supervision of Reuben Wells, master mechanic of the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis road, at the company's shops in Madison. It was designed to take the place of a cog-gear locomotive in pulling trains up the incline plane between Madison and North Madison, Ind., which is one and one-quarter of a mile long, with a grade of 320 feet to the mile or one foot to 16½ feet. In the presence of all the higher railway officials of not only the J. M. & I. road, but officials of many other roads in America, England, France and Germany, this wonderful engine demonstrated its ability to do the work better than the cog-gear engine which it was to replace. This test was made in July, 1868, with Master Mechanic Reuben Wells at the throttle and so skeptical were the witnesses that none would ride on the first trip. At that time the "Reuben Wells," as this engine was called, was the largest locomotive in the world. In those days the standard locomotive cylinder had a diameter of 16 inches. The Reuben Wells had cylinders 20½ inches, drivers 14 inches, boiler diameter 56 inches; boiler iron, 7-16 inch thick; 201 boiler tubes, twelve feet long; firebox three feet wide at the bottom and four feet at the top, with a depth of 5 feet, 8 inches; tank cylinders, 26 feet by 28 inches in dimensions, with a capacity of 1,500 gallons; weight of engine, equipped for service, 112,000 pounds. The picture of this locomotive was taken at Madison and shows the company's machine shop at the left and the round house at the right of the locomotive. When the Pennsylvania assumed control of the Jefferson, Madison and Indianapolis road and made improvements in road bed and equipment that eliminated in a measure the usefulness of the Reuben Wells, it was presented to the Purdue university and is now an interesting part of the railway exhibit in that institution. The picture above is a reproduction of a photograph owned by a well known Pennsylvania man who at one time worked for the J. M. & I. and assisted in making repairs on the old engine.

E. B. DEVLBISS ADVANCED.

Has Been Appointed Pennsy Electrical Engineer.

The appointment to a responsible position of E. B. Devliss, effective April 1, has until today been overlooked by the news reporters of the city papers. This young man is now electrical engineer for the Pennsylvania Northwest system. O. C. Wright, assistant engineer of motive power, took care of the electrical plant also ever since the transfer of T. R. Cook to the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road as master mechanic, but on April 1st he was relieved of that work by Mr. Devliss. The latter recently completed an apprenticeship in the electrical and motive power department, which he commenced immediately after graduating from Purdue university.

THANKED THE ENGINEER.

Engineer George Kensill, who took Pennsylvania train No. 23 to Chicago Sunday was surprised when two ladies approached him as he was looking his engine over at the end of the trip and inquired: "Are you the engineer on this train?" "Yes, ma'am," was the reply. "Well, I want to thank you for bringing it safely over the line," said the lady. "Do you always make such trips without accident?" she inquired. "I have so far," replied Engineer Kensill. "Thank God for that," said the lady, and both turned and walked away. From the conductor Mrs. Clark learned that the ladies were, the survivors of the Titanic wreck, about whom there have been telegraphic notice in The Sentinel.

Cables Has Thus Far Picked Up 77 Dead from Titanic.

WORK GOES FORWARD

New York, April 23.—An additional list of fifteen names of persons who perished in the Titanic disaster and whose bodies have been recovered, was made public today by the White Star line. The list was received in a wireless telegram from the cable ship Mackay-Bennett, which also announced that a total of seventy-seven bodies had been recovered to date. Of the fifteen names twelve are those of passengers.

The first list of names of bodies recovered by the cable steamer was received here last night, through wireless messages to the White Star line offices. The list of twenty-seven names contained none of several of the most prominent men who perished unless it be that of "George W. Widener," as sent by wireless, refers, as is believed, probably, to be George D. Widener, of Philadelphia.

The original passenger lists of the Titanic do not mention "Widener," which apparently establishes the identity of the body as that of Mr. Widener, son of P. A. B. Widener, of Philadelphia, one of the directors of the White Star line, who, together with his son, Harry, was lost.

Spellings Are Puzzling.

The White Star officials studied with interest, in interpreting the meaning of some of the spellings and came to the conclusion that many of the names were badly garbled because of the fact that the list had been relayed. It came via the steamer "Laconia" to the Cape Race wireless station and was sent by cable to New York.

Telegraph operators acquainted with both the Morse and Continental codes speculated as to whether the names of Major Archibald Butt and Colonel John J. Astor were intended to be included, but they could come to no decision that appeared trustworthy in such a case.

In the list as it came the following combination appeared:

"Nihil Schiedig R. B. Alt," which operators believe might have been intended for Major Archibald Butt's name.

Similar speculation developed over the name "N. Colas Rasher," a name which the White Star line could not account for and which telegraph operators thought might be Col. Astor's.

The White Star line dispatched a message in an effort to clear up such questionable interpretations and for this and the possible receipt of further names officials of the company kept their offices open all night.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Bohemian Girl" Friday Evening.

The crowning effort of Milton and Sargent Aborn's career as producers of the Majestic theater on Friday evening in the form of a big spectacular production of Balfe's masterpiece, "The Bohemian Girl," is said to be a most unique attraction. In addition to a musical ensemble of grand opera strength and effectiveness, engaging upwards of one hundred people, the Messrs. Aborn provide a scenic investigation of unusual magnitude, the incidental scenes of which employ a cavalcade of trained horses and a band of wonderful acrobats, etc. These features are skillfully introduced without interfering with the musically presentation of this grand old opera. "The Bohemian Girl," written nearly seventy years ago, before the days of rag-time and other "popular music," reveals to us the best treasure of our stage treasures, its famous old melodies, "The Heart Bowed Down," "Then You'll Remember Me," "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls" are melodies which can never grow old.

MISS LOUISE DUNBAR

In the Light Eternal Saturday Matinee and Night.

The advance sale of seats for the sixteenth and seventeenth performances of "The Light Eternal" in Fort Wayne, next Saturday matinee and night, will open at the Majestic box office Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Judging from the past business done by this remarkable play in Fort Wayne, those who want choice seats will do well to be on hand when the box office opens. At every one of the fifteen performances already given, excepting only the first two, every seat on the lower floor and in the balcony of the Majestic has been sold when the doors opened for the performance. The paid admissions for each performance has varied from 1,100 to 1,450, according to the number of patrons willing to accept seats in the gallery. This condition has been especially true in regard to the matinee performances, and as a special price for the farewell matinee is announced there will certainly be an even larger demand for seats at Saturday afternoon's presentation than at any time in the past. All seats will be reserved for both performances and the first to arrive at the Majestic box office will be given first choice.

The presence of Miss Louise Dunbar in the principal feminine role of the play may be counted as a material factor in the drawing power of "The Light Eternal" in Fort Wayne at this time. Miss Dunbar's long stay at the Majestic as leading woman of our Own Stock company, made for her a wide circle of friends and admirers who are anxious to see her as the Princess Armentis. This role is probably the strongest she has ever played.

THE TEMPLE THEATER.

You will have one of the heartiest laughs of your life if you go to the Temple vaudeville this week and see H. T. MacConnell. "The President of the 13 Club." The delight afforded by Mr. MacConnell is the unexpected. For that reason what Mr. MacConnell does or says or what happens will not be inhibited at here because the new and the original is the great humor of the act. Sufficient to say it is one of the funniest and very best acts seen. The audiences yesterday fairly shrieked with laughter. There are a plenty of good things on this week's bill. Headline the list are the Osaka Japs, giving a beautiful and wonderful exhibition of skill which makes even the man who has seen 'em all sit up and give new attention. The bar of the act is marvelous. "After Dark in Chinatown" is finely produced. The act has considerable comedy and a touch of pathos. Jack Reid does the comedy work as the old Irishman in search for his son, Lord Starkey, as the "Information Kid," and Mr. Reid keep up a brisk dialogue for ten minutes that is amusing and the entire act which takes six persons to present, is out of the beaten paths in detail. The Clarke trio have an original musical novelty in which they employ banjos, guitar and piano. One of the young women with the troupe has a high soprano voice which is very pleasing and the two others make music from the banjo that is astonishing. The act is unique and the musical part free from the ordinary. Another act of decidedly pretty and clean work is that done by the Zara Carmen troupe of novelty jugglers. Logan and Ferris, billed as "Two War Dogs," have a singing and talking stunt. One sings in a deep bass and the other plays a good opposite. Their lines are up-to-date and to quoting "Stop kicking my dawg around." The Temple orchestra has some pretty numbers in the opening and the moving pictures are attractive as usual.
